Let Indigo support and simplify your students' university journey.

The decision of where to go to university is a huge one for any student, and navigating through hundreds of universities offering thousands of courses can be intimidating.

Here at Trotman Publishing, we have been supporting students for over 50 years with titles including HEAP: University Degree Course Offers — a stalwart of every school library in the country. Indigo, our digital resource, is all about helping your students make informed choices and choose an enjoyable and relevant university course. Indigo comes into its own as your Year 12s start to make university and course choices and attend open days. It can also help your new cohort of Year 13s as they write their personal statements — or, at the other end of the academic year — as they navigate clearing in the summer.

About Indigo Unis

Research and select university courses with our Unis module. Read about and compare subjects, unis and courses and read our advice on interviews and personal statements. Access the Personal Statement Builder and view your students' work.

Explore unis

Support your students to build their shortlist with Indigo's comprehensive profiles of UK universities, now with NEW and improved profile design.

Rank unis

This module now includes the option to sort unis using a range of data collated from all key sources, or using our unique Indigo ranking.
